EDITORIAL

Les huitièmes élections du Parlement européen au suffrage universel direct se sont déroulées du 22 au 25 mai dans les 28 États membres de l'Union européenne.

Ce numéro de notre Review est consacré aux résultats de ce scrutin ainsi qu'à l'historique de l'élection directe du Parlement européen, dont on a fêté les 35 ans en 2014.

Que retenir de cette dixième édition ?

I. Évolution de la composition du Parlement européen depuis 1979

Les premiers tableaux sont consacrés à la composition du Parlement européen à l'occasion de la session constitutive du 1er juillet 2014, et à sa composition actuelle.

Pour le tableau de la session constitutive, les noms des partis sont accompagnés, quand cela est le cas, de ceux des coalitions au sein desquelles ils se sont présentés aux élections européennes 2014.

Au fil des traités et des adhésions, le Parlement européen est passé de 410 députés, en juillet 1979, à 751 aujourd'hui, comme le prévoit le traité de Lisbonne.

Une deuxième série de tableaux met en relief l'évolution des groupes politiques au cours des sept législatures précédentes jusqu'au Parlement sortant, qui comptait 766 députés à la veille des élections de mai 2014.

Dans le cadre de cet historique, le lecteur trouvera deux tableaux par législature : le premier consacré à la session constitutive, et le second au Parlement sortant au printemps précédent le scrutin. Deux exceptions sont faites pour les législatures 2004-2009 (adhésion de la Bulgarie et de la Roumanie) et 2009-2014

EDITORIAL

The eighth European Parliament elections by direct universal suffrage were held in the 28 European Union Member States between 22 and 25 May 2014.

This edition (No 10) of our Review examines the election results as well as data covering the 35 years since the first direct elections to the European Parliament.

It focuses on several core themes.

I. How the composition of the European Parliament has changed since 1979

The first series of tables shows the composition of the European Parliament at its constitutive session on 1 July 2014 and also its current composition.

For the table of the constitutive session, the names of the parties are listed together with the names of the coalitions of which they formed part at the 2014 European elections, where applicable.

As a result of successive treaties and accessions, the European Parliament's membership has increased from 410 in July 1979 to the current number of 751 provided for in the Lisbon Treaty.

A second series of tables illustrates how the political groups changed in the course of the seven parliamentary terms up to and including 2009-2014, when there were 766 MEPs.

There are two tables for each parliamentary term: for the constitutive session and for the outgoing Parliament in the spring preceding the elections. Two exceptions have been made: one for the 2004-2009 term (which saw the accession of Bulgaria and Romania) and one for 2009-2014

(18 députés supplémentaires prévus par le traité de Lisbonne et adhésion de la Croatie).

Les tableaux suivants illustrent l'évolution de la répartition homme/femme au Parlement depuis 1979. Pour cette nouvelle législature, le pourcentage des députées européennes s'élève à 37% (elles étaient 16% en 1979, et 35% en 2009).

Le dernier tableau de cette section montre que le nombre de parlementaires réélus en 2014 s'élève à 47%.

Il est à noter que l'âge moyen des députés européens était, à l'occasion de la session constitutive, d'un peu plus de 51 ans.

II. Nombre de partis nationaux au Parlement européen

Le Parlement européen sortant comptait 196 partis politiques nationaux pour 766 députés. Lors de la constitutive de juillet 2014 ce nombre s'élève à 203 pour 751 députés. Au lendemain des élections européennes de 2014 il est important de souligner que 55 nouveaux partis ont intégré le PE, alors que 51 autres n'y siègent plus.

III. Taux de participation

Les taux de participation qui figurent dans cette publication sont ceux qui ont été émis par les autorités nationales compétentes. Leurs références se trouvent à la fin la section consacrée à chaque État membre.

Le lecteur prendra connaissance de plusieurs types de tableaux.

1. Tableau global 2014

Plus de 168 millions d'Européens sont allés voter, équivalant à une participation de 42,61%. Si la participation est en baisse de 0,36 point à l'échelle européenne, son évolution est très contrastée d'un pays à l'autre par rapport à 2009, allant de +26,37 points en Lituanie à -23,46 points en Lettonie. À cet égard, on constate que la participation a augmenté de manière significative dans sept pays, est restée assez stable dans six d'entre eux, et a diminué

(when 18 additional MEPs joined as a result of the Lisbon Treaty and the accession of Croatia).

The next tables show how the gender balance among MEPs has changed since 1979. In the current parliamentary term, the proportion of female MEPs has risen to 37% (from 16.5% in 1979 and 35% in 2009).

The last table in this section shows that the proportion of MEPs re-elected in 2014 was 47%.

The average age of the MEPs at the constitutive session was slightly over 51.

II. Number of national parties in the European Parliament

In the outgoing Parliament 196 parties were represented by 766 MEPs, whereas the 751 MEPs at the recent constitutive session represented 203 national political parties. Following the 2014 European elections, 55 new parties have entered Parliament and 51 have left it.

III. Turnout

The turnout figures in this publication are those published by the national authorities responsible. References can be found at the end of the section for each Member State.

The following tables illustrate various aspects.

1. Overall table for 2014

More than 168 million Europeans voted – a turnout of 42.61%. While participation EU-wide was down by 0.36 points by comparison with the 2009 figure, the trend differed significantly across the Member States, ranging from +26.37 points in Lithuania to -23.46 points in Latvia. Turnout increased significantly in seven Member States, was relatively unchanged in six and decreased in 15.

2. Répartition du vote par genre :

45% des hommes se sont rendus aux urnes en mai 2014 pour 40,7% des femmes. Elles ont toutefois voté davantage que les hommes dans 9 pays. Il est important de noter que l'écart entre hommes et femmes augmente : il était de 2 points de pourcentage en 2009, et est aujourd'hui de près de 4 points.

3. Vote des 18-24 ans (Autriche 16-24)

Les jeunes sont ceux qui ont le moins voté (27,8%) avec de fortes différences par pays. En Irlande, par exemple, seuls 21,4% des jeunes ont voté pour 52,4% au niveau national. A l'inverse, en Suède, 65,5% d'entre eux ont participé aux élections de mai 2014 pour 51,1% au niveau national.

4. Vote des 55 ans et plus

Comme lors des élections précédentes, ce sont les 55 ans et plus qui ont le plus voté avec une participation moyenne de 51,3% au niveau de l'UE28.

5. Évolution de la participation au niveau de l'UE et de chaque État membre entre chaque scrutin depuis 1979.

IV. Résultats comparatifs par pays

Pour chaque État membre, le lecteur trouvera sept tableaux :

1. Composition du Parlement européen: Comparatif des résultats des élections européennes 2009¹/2014

Pour les élections européennes qui ont précédé celles de 2014, les résultats sont présentés de la

2. Participation by gender

Voter turnout at the May 2014 elections was 45% among men, as against 40.7% among women. However, in nine countries, more women than men voted. It should be noted that the gap between male and female turnout has widened: from 2 points in 2009 to 4 points today.

3. The vote of 18 to 24-year-olds (Austria 16 to 24-year-olds)

The lowest turnout was among young people (27.8% overall), although the levels differed significantly between Member States. In Ireland only 21.4% of young people voted, while the overall national turnout was 52.4%. In Sweden, by contrast, 65.5% of young people voted, as against an overall turnout of 51.1%.

4. The 55+ vote

As at the previous elections, it was people in this age group who voted most, with an overall turnout of 51.3% across the 28 Member States.

5. Changes in turnout from one election to the next, at EU level and in each Member State, since 1979.

IV. Comparative results by country

For each EU Member State, the reader will find seven tables.

1. Composition of the European Parliament: comparing the results of the 2009¹ and 2014 elections

The results of the elections preceding the 2014 poll are presented by party, in manière suivante: résultats par parti, en pourcentages et en sièges, et appartenance aux groupes politiques à la session constitutive de 2009 et dans le Parlement sortant (situation au 30 juin 2014).

Concernant les élections européennes de 2014, les tableaux reprennent les résultats en pourcentages par parti, le nombre de voix obtenues, les sièges et l'appartenance aux groupes politiques à la session constitutive.

Cette mise en perspective permet de mieux appréhender l'évolution de l'offre politique européenne entre les deux scrutins européens.

2. Partis nationaux représentés au Parlement européen

Les noms des partis nationaux figurent exclusivement dans leur(s) langue(s) officielle(s), à l'exception de la Bulgarie, de la Grèce et de Chypre, pour lesquels nous avons ajouté une version anglaise.

Le tableau reprend également le nom de la liste sur laquelle figuraient les partis concourant aux élections européennes ainsi que leur appartenance à un groupe politique au moment de la session constitutive du 1er juillet 2014.

3. Députés élus

Pour chaque élu(e), le tableau reprend le nom de la liste sur laquelle il/elle a concouru, le nom et le prénom du/de la parlementaire, son genre, s'il/elle était ou non parlementaire sortant, son parti politique national et son groupe politique au Parlement européen. Les remplacements déjà intervenus depuis le scrutin y sont également indiqués.

4. Résultats globaux

Ce tableau reprend les scores obtenus par toutes les listes de candidats au scrutin de mai 2014.

percentages and in numbers of seat, and the affiliation of the parties to the political groups both at the 2009 constitutive session and then in the outgoing Parliament (as at 30 June 2014) is also shown.

For the 2014 elections the tables present the results in percentages by party, in numbers of votes obtained and in seats won, and show political group affiliation at the constitutive session.

This helps to illustrate how the political landscape at EU level changed between the two European elections.

2. National parties represented in the European Parliament

The names of the national parties are given only in their official language(s), except in the cases of Bulgaria, Greece and Cyprus, where an English version has been added.

This table also indicates the name of the electoral list on which the parties appeared, as well as their affiliation to a political group at the constitutive session of Parliament on 1 July 2014.

3. MEPs elected

For each elected MEP the table shows the name of the list on which he/she ran in the elections, his/her full name and gender, whether he/she was a Member of the outgoing Parliament, his/her national political party and his/her political group in Parliament. Where MEPs have been replaced by others since the election this is also shown.

4. Overall results

This table shows the scores obtained by all the candidate lists in the May 2014 elections.

5. Noms des listes nationales qui ont concouru aux élections européennes 2014 :

Le tableau est divisé entre les listes représentées et les listes non représentées au Parlement européen après le scrutin de 2014. Il indique, pour les premières, leur appartenance aux groupes politiques du Parlement sortant et, pour tous, leur appartenance éventuelle à un parti politique européen (basé sur l'information disponible sur les sites des partis politiques européens).

6. Résultats des deux dernières élections nationales et des européennes de 2014

Ce tableau permet de saisir l'évolution de la situation politique dans les États membres.

7. Participation aux deux dernières élections nationales et aux deux dernières élections européennes

Le tableau montre, d'une part, la comparaison entre les taux de participation aux deux dernières élections nationales et, de l'autre, la comparaison entre le taux de participation aux élections européennes de 2009 et de 2014.

8. Élections présidentielles au suffrage universel direct

Il s'agit ici des résultats des dernières élections présidentielles au suffrage universel direct dans 14 pays membres, où ce type d'élection a lieu.

9. Les sources d'information utilisées aux niveaux européen et national

5. Names of the national lists contesting the 2014 European elections

The table is divided into those lists represented and those not represented in the European Parliament after the 2014 elections. In the case of the lists represented, their affiliation to one of the political groups at the end of the last parliamentary term is indicated, and in all relevant cases affiliation to a European political party is shown (on the basis of information available on the European political parties' websites).

6. Results of the last two national elections and the 2014 European elections

This table helps to show how the political situation in the Member States is changing.

7. Turnout at the last two national elections and last two European elections

The table compares, on the one hand, turnout at the last two national elections and, on the other, turnout at the European elections of 2009 and 2014.

8. Presidential elections by direct universal suffrage

This section concerns the results of the latest presidential elections by direct universal suffrage in 14 Member States in which this type of election is held.

9. EU and national information sources used

Remarque complémentaire

Le lecteur est invité à noter que les pourcentages de voix obtenues ainsi que leur nombre total pour chaque liste électorale sont ceux publiés officiellement par les autorités nationales compétentes, dont les références se trouvent à la fin de chaque section nationale.

* The outgoing Parliament as of the 30th of June 2014 is counting 764 instead of the foreseen 766 members. This is due to two vacant seats in Belgium. One member of the CD&V (EPP) deceased on the 15th of May 2014. Another member of the PS (S&D) abandoned his function as MEP on the 19th of June 2014 due to incompatibility.

¹ One MEP split from Vlams Belang to become an Independent and changed from NA to EFD on 08 November 2011

² In the outgoing Parliament as of the 30th of June 2014 Belgium is counting 20 instead of the foreseen 22 members. This is due to the vacant seats of one member of the CD&V who deceased on the 15th of May 2014, and another member of the PS who abandoned his function as MEP on the 19th of June 2014 due to incompatibility.

¹ One MEP former Labour now Independent (NA)

NB 1: Please note that Ireland is divided into four constituencies and that the percentages of votes per party in the table refer to national first preference votes only. Under the Irish preferential voting system (the Single Transferable Vote (STV) in multi-member constituencies) the number of seats won per party in each constituency depends partly on the first preference votes and partly on lower-order preferences. Candidates who receive a number of votes equal to or greater than the “quota” are elected and their surplus votes are transferred according to the next preference expressed by the voter. When no surplus votes remain to be distributed, the lowest candidate is eliminated and his/her votes are transferred according to the next preferences, and so on until all the seats are filled.

NB: Ireland is divided into four constituencies and that the percentages of votes per party in the table refer to national first preference votes only. Under the Irish preferential voting system (the Single Transferable Vote (STV) in multi-member constituencies) the number of seats won per party in each constituency depends partly on the first preference votes and partly on lower-order preferences. Candidates who receive a number of votes equal to or greater than the "quota" are elected and their surplus votes are transferred according to the next preference expressed by the voter. When no surplus votes remain to be distributed, the lowest candidate is eliminated and his/her votes are transferred according to the next preferences, and so on until all the seats are filled.

Under the Irish preferential voting system (the Single Transferable Vote (STV) in multi-member constituencies) the number of seats won per party in each constituency depends partly on the first preference votes and partly on lower-order preferences. Candidates who receive a number of votes equal to or greater than the “quota” are elected and their surplus votes are transferred according to the next preference expressed by the voter. When no surplus votes remain to be distributed, the lowest candidate is eliminated and his/her votes are transferred according to the next preferences, and so on until all the seats are filled.

² SP and PBP were part of the ULA (United Left Alliance) which won 59,423 votes (2.68%) and five seats. It comprised the Socialist Party, the People Before Profit Alliance, the Workers and Unemployed Action Group and independent candidate Declan Bree (2,284 votes).

³ Independents include New Vision candidate (25,422 votes, 1 seat) and People's Convention candidates (1,512 votes).

² New electoral law introduced changes compared to the previous (2010) elections: included the removal of the second voting round, changed seat allocation method and the reduction of the number of parliamentary seats: a total of 199 mandates are to be distributed in a single-round electoral system. 106 MPs are elected in the constituencies on the basis of the simple majority principle. The remaining 93 seats are distributed according to the votes cast on national party lists or preferential minority lists. Only those parties are entitled to receive proportional mandates that pass an election threshold of 5% (or 10% per cent for lists with two parties or 15 per cent for lists with more than two parties).

Wheras, 35,40% is the turnout calculated on valid votes only which excludes both votes rejected at the count and votes rejected at postal vote verification.

² Includes the Speaker, which in the UK remains strictly non-partisan and resigns from his/her party.
